Lettuce supplies have tightened some with the chief harvest transition to the Salinas, California area. This has caused iceberg lettuce prices to firm. Iceberg lettuce shipments were still about 10% better than this time last year. History suggests that better lettuce supplies and prices should be forthcoming. The five-year average move for the iceberg lettuce markets during the next three weeks is a decline of 34%. The tomato markets remain depressed due in part to nearly ideal growing conditions in Florida. But, higher prices are likely pending.
