Beef, Veal and Lamb Report - Beef output last week rose .9% and was 1.4% better than the same week last year. The July 1st cattle on feed inventory was 4.3% larger than 2017 with June placements into feedlots up by 1.3%. But, the average placement weight was down 3 pounds from the prior year. Slaughter ready cattle supplies should be sufficient in the near term, but there is some concern that cattle numbers could tighten this fall. Solid retail feature activity is occurring and anticipated to persist into the Labor Day holiday. This should boost demand and support ground beef and steak cut prices in the near term. Since 2013, the average move for the choice ribeye market during the next four weeks was 5.6% higher.
